Fateful Hour for British Stronghold Nearing Rapidly

BULLETIN
London, Feb. 10—(AP)—Gloom pervaded London today as reports from Singapore told of the grave situation of defenders of that important base, but authoritative quarters believed earlier suggestions that the Japanese had penetrated as far as Singapore City itself were incorrect. Latest reports, these quarters said, place the Japanese about 10 miles from the city.

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Overwhelming masses of Japanese troops swarmed on to Singapore island today, forcing British imperial defenders to execute a new withdrawal in what appeared to be the dying hours of the struggle for Britain's last great stronghold in the Far Pacific.

Tokyo's dispatches broadcast by the Italian radio said Japanese assault forces had driven within five miles of the downtown heart of Singapore city.

British headquarters acknowledged at 10 p. m. last night (11 a. m., E. W. T. Monday) that fighting raged only 10 miles away.

A Berlin broadcast said the Japanese commander, Lieut.-Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, sent a message this morning to the British commander-in-chief, Lieut.-Gen. A. E. Percival, demanding the surrender of Singapore.

Bloody fighting still continued, however, with the hard-pressed Australian, British and Indian imperials exacting a terrific toll on the invaders.

Domestically, Japanese news agency, said in front-line dispatches that Japanese engineers had repaired the 3,000-foot Johore Strait causeway, which the British had breached and that Japanese troops and supplies were pouring over the span.

Even as Singapore's fateful hour approached, the Japanese invasion forces were striking new blows in the Dutch Indies and toward Australia.

A bulletin from N. E. I. headquarters said Japanese troops, launching their sixth attack on a key point in the Indies, had landed in the vicinity of Macassar, chief port on the southwest coast of Celebes island, 500 miles northeast of the big Dutch naval base at Soerabaja, Java.

The thrust was seen as another move toward the expected assault on Java itself, wealthiest of the Indies and headquarters of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's United Nations command.

SCORCHED EARTH PROGRAM APPLIED
London, Feb. 10—(AP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Singapore today said the British had begun to apply a scorched earth program with the blowing up of all oil tanks and the firing of all rubber, pineapple and other factories in the northwest area of the island.

Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's United Nations command. Simultaneously, communications were interrupted between Java and the port of Banjarmasin, on the south coast of Dutch Borneo, 350 miles north of Soerabaja. This usually means that an attack is in progress. Other Japanese troops effected a new landing at Gasmata, on the

Russia's armies, driving forward through gale-whipped snowstorms, reported today they had liberated 80 cities and more than 48,000 towns and villages in the past 10 weeks, and declared that the Germans had lost 40,000 men in the Crimean battle of Sevastopol alone. Soviet dispatches said the Red armies were scoring heavy new gains in the Donets river industrial basin, in the Ukraine, and in

OFFENSIVE IN SPRING EXPECTED

Hitler Making Gigantic Effort to Stabilize Front in Soviet Russia in Preparation for New Drive to be Concentrated in Mediterranean and to East

BULGARIA AND TURKEY MAY BECOME INVOLVED

BY THOMAS F. HAWKINS
Bern, Switzerland, Feb. 10—(AP)—The German army is making a gigantic new effort to stabilize the front in Soviet Russia in preparation for a spring offensive concentrated in the Mediterranean and to the east, usually well-informed persons with Axis connections said today.

The Caucasus, Egypt, Iraq and the Suez Canal were laid down by these observers as ultimate goals of a Nazi drive which, they said, likely would bring Bulgaria into action and involve Turkey.

This is the critical month. Much depends on Germany's ability to solidify her positions in northern and central Russia, before thawing snows, mud and rain make those sectors difficult for major operations.

The weather in the Mediterranean basin will be at its best in March when, it was stated, the offensive is expected to break in full blast. In one sense, it may have begun already with Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's comeback in Libya aided by considerable reinforcements.

Foreign observers here who have talked with persons recently returned from the Balkans believe that the Axis command has plans in the making surpassing the scope of any previous campaign and based on this strategy:

1. To continue withdrawing under Red army pressure on the central and northern Russian fronts to bases closer to supply centers, striving for a fixed, positional front.

2. To make every effort to regain lost ground in the southern Ukraine while pressing through the Crimea and the Donets basin toward the Caucasus.

3. To work toward the objective of ultimate unification of columns

JAVA PREPARES TO REPULSE AN ENEMY INVASION

Batavia, N. E. I., Feb. 10—(AP)—The Japanese thrust toward Java, wealthiest and most vital of the Dutch East Indies islands, intensified today as the invaders put new landing forces ashore near Macassar, on the southwest arm of Celebes, and were reported driving on Bandjermasin, chief port on the south coast of Borneo.

In each case the Japanese were striking for footholds within easy bomber range of the important United Nations naval base at Soerabaja, Macassar is some 500 miles to the northeast, and Band-

DEFERMENT OF FARM LABOR IS NEW PROPOSAL

Senator Norris Suggests Selective Service Adopt General Rules To Impel Boards To Excuse Agriculturists

HERSHEY IS CONSULTED

Washington, Feb. 10—(AP)—Adoption of a national policy for the deferment of military service for essential farm labor was proposed today by Senators Norris (Ind-Neb) and Nye (R-ND), who said a growing shortage of agricultural workers threatened to curtail the nation's food supply.

Norris suggested that the selective service system adopt general rules which would impel local draft boards to defer men whose services were necessary to maintain farm output. He said the lack of a fixed policy of this nature had resulted in the induction into the army of many men whose contribution to the war effort would have been much greater if they had remained on the farm.

Nye said he had called this problem to the attention of Brig. Gen. Lewis E. Hershey, director of selective service.

Local boards now are operating under a general memorandum sent to state directors on December 4, four days before war was declared, outlining the procedure under

TWO BOYS DROWN IN A POOL AT LEBANON

Lebanon, Feb. 10—(AP)—Two boys, Melvin Mills, 10, and Benedict Hermansky, 9, drowned in a pool at the edge of the city last night, the Hermansky youth in a futile attempt to save his companion.

The victims, with two other boys, were playing in a quarry and Mills ventured onto the ice, covering the pool. The ice collapsed, plunging him into the water. Hermansky went to his rescue and also fell into the water.

The other boys summoned firemen, who circled the pool in a rowboat and recovered the bodies.

ART IN OCD ATTACKED IN HOUSE

Dancing Mayris Chaney and Hollywood's Melvyn Douglas Have it Straight From Representatives They are Not Wanted Unless They Serve Without Pay

APPROPRIATION FOR MASKS IS APPROVED

Washington, Feb. 10—(AP)—Dancing Mayris Chaney and Hollywood's Melvyn Douglas have it straight from the house of representatives that they aren't wanted in the civilian defense setup unless they serve as volunteers without pay.

And the Office of Civilian Defense has been cautioned that any feeble and fanciful will be subject to congressional investigation.

That is how the house wound up the first act of the wartime controversy over the place of the arts in air raid precautions. It approved and sent to the senate late yesterday a $100,000,000 appropriation for gas masks, fire-fighting and other equipment.

But the appropriation carried a strict prohibition against employment of movie actors and dancers, voted after two days of acrimonious debate. In the debate there was scathing criticism of the administration for selecting Douglas, as head of an "arts" section in the OCD and for choosing Miss Chaney, a friend of Mrs. Roosevelt, as head of a division on children's activities dealing with physical fitness. Leaders said any bono-doogling in the agency would be investigated.

House complaints served primarily to put OCD officials on notice that future employment of Douglas and Miss Chaney will not be tolerated -- they already are being paid from funds in another appropriation which is expected to pass today.

Floor leader of the attack on the arts was Rep. Tober (R-NY), who delivered this peroration:

"The time has come to decide whether we are going all-out for defense or continue to bono-doogle" (Turn To Page Nine)

Washington, Feb. 10—(AP)—American forces in the Philippines shot down seven Japanese planes in the last 24 hours, the war department said today, but are battling increasingly heavy odds on the ground.

Considerable Importance Is Attached to Visit of Chinese Generalissimo and Staff to City of Delhi

MISSION IS A MYSTERY

By the Associated Press
New Delhi, India, Feb. 10—Full collaboration in the United Nations' cause by the 850,000,000 inhabitants of China and India—one-third of the earth's population—apparently was being from today through the visit here of Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

What specific mission, brought China's war leader and the United Nations' supreme commander, in the China war theater here with his staff to confer with Indian officials was not disclosed.

Lord Linlithgow, viceroy of India, however, said the meeting set the seal on the comradeship-in-arms of China and India and that Japan would learn to her sorrow that it "bodes our enemy no good."

Apart from his key post in the United Nations' high command, Chiang has tremendous stakes in the defense of Burma and India against the Japanese invaders (Turn To Page Two)

MANY PROTEST PENSION PLAN

Washington, Feb. 10—(AP)—An avalanche of letters from back home, the like of which hasn't been seen on Capitol Hill since the days of neutrality repeal, put the pressure of voters today being a growing movement for repeal of the new law setting up pensions for congressmen.

Following quickly on the heels of the derisive "bunbles for congress" movement, the outpouring of letters apparently was having noticeable results with some legislators.

Chairman Ramspeck (D-Ga.) of the house civil service committee told reporters that upwards of a dozen bills seeking repeal of the pension act already have been referred to his committee, but indicated no immediate action was contemplated on any of them.

Hope of Salvaging Giant Vessel Even in Her Present Position and Condition is Expressed by Commandant of Third Naval District Admiral Andrews

NOTHING TO INDICATE ATTEMPT AT SABOTAGE

New York, Feb. 10—(AP)—Like a great wounded monster but somehow, majestic still, the fire-seared and water-logged former French liner Normandie succumbed to the surging tide today and toppled to ignominious rest in Hudson river mud.

Covered by flames, a gaping hole cut in hull in vain attempt to counteract pressure of the incoming tide, the 350,000,000 vessel rolled over at 2:45 a. m. (EST) and now lies on her port side in 40 feet of water alongside her pier.

The navy, however, has not abandoned hope of still using the one-time blue ribbon liner. Quicker on reports that she was beyond salvage, the public relations office of the Third Naval District stated: "The navy supports no such contention at this time."

As fireboats continued to throw streams of water on the still-burning ship, naval officials planned to meet later in the day to determine what to do with her.

Touched off by sparks from a welder's torch, flames raged through the naval craft for three and a half hours yesterday before they were brought under control by every available piece of land and sea fire fighting equipment in Manhattan.

Two hundred twenty of the 2,200 workmen and naval personnel aboard suffered injuries, and one welder, Frank Trentacosta, 36, died last night in a hospital of a fractured skull received when he jumped from deck to pier.

It was ever so gently and with scarcely a noise that the 60,000-ton ship, now the U. S. naval auxiliary Lafayette, slipped her fire-blasted superstructure to the water's surface in surrender.

Railroad Fares Hiked Ten Per Cent. Today

New York, Feb. 10—(AP)—It cost 10 per cent more to ride on most of the nation's railroads today.

The increase, granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission several weeks ago to meet higher operating costs resulting from the war effort and wage boosts, was placed in effect on all trains carrying passengers from one state to another and on most of the tickets destined for use within a single state.

Many state public service commissions were conducting hearings to determine whether to grant the increase on intrastate fares and on commutation tickets. In many cases the railroads were collecting the added money and issuing stubs entitling the holder to a refund if the increase was refused.

Little Tot Rescued From Mill Race by Carrier Boy

Completely ignoring the danger to himself, 14-year-old James Hansen, of 21 Clark street, a Times Mirror carrier, rescued a three-year-old boy from the mill race of the mill race at the foot of Liberty street about five o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The younger child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Portch, 419 Hickory street, went through the ice into the water while playing with his older brother, Donald, aged 7, and Tommy Dietrich, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dietrich, 235 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

According to reports, the three small children had been playing on the ice at the edge of the mill race, throwing pieces of ice into the water where the stream is not frozen over. David ventured too close to the edge of the frozen portion of the mill race to get a piece of ice when he suddenly went through the ice into the water.

The Hansen boy, who had been delivering papers, was standing on the Liberty street bridge when the youngster fell into the water. Without hesitation, he ran out on the ice and pulled the child from the water, but not until the youngster had twice gone beneath the surface.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF WARREN IN DIVISION BAND

It was announced at the Warren Salvation Army citadel today that twenty local "teen-age" young people have been named as one unit of a divisional youth band of 150 instrumentalists and vocalists to participate in the annual young people's councils scheduled for Pittsburgh in April.

Major Charles McNally, divisional youth supervisor, on the occasion of his week-end engagement in Warren, conducted two lengthy rehearsals on the numbers to be played and sung. The personnel of the Warren unit will undergo slight revisions during the next three weeks of continued practice. High standards in both character and talent have been set by Salvation Army leaders for the group.

The following names of Warren area young people are on the initial list: Betty and Esther Anderson, Betty Brown, Virginia Violet and Virgil Fellows, Robert Flinn, Alice and John Gross, Beatrice Liberty, Charles Lucie, Edna Leella, Iva and Ruby Matha, Annabelle and James Snyder and Eleanor Waite.

Two more names will be added to make twenty representatives from Warren, one of the largest groups from any one corps of the division.

GOOD SUGGESTION
A most sensible request has been issued in New York state asking that persons who have no immediate use for a birth certificate refrain from endeavoring to secure one at the present time. The rush of men and women into the service has swamped the bureau of vital statistics in every state and the corps of workers are finding it increasing hard to keep up with the rush. Overburdened with requests for immediate service the Bureau find that many are asking for their birth certificates "just in case" and this is adding to the work of the bureau. Such a request could well be made in this state where the rush is a heavy one.

In connection with the government's campaign to encourage the co-operation of all employees of the commonwealth in the national defense program, it is announced by the Warren County Board of Assistance that there has been a one hundred percent response by the local staff. Every employee of the Department of Public Assistance in Warren county has pledged regular monthly purchases of defense savings stamps or bonds and a member of the staff has been delegated to receive the payments and purchase the defense stamps for the entire group for the duration. This is an example of voluntary and systematic participation in the nation's war effort that could well be adopted by any organization, large or small, which does not have a regular salary deduction program.

which agricultural workers might be excused from military service, if the local board members are required to follow such a course.

The selective service is prohibited by law from making any group deferments, but Nye said he believed the situation could be relieved by adoption of uniform rules which local boards could apply to all selectees drawn from farms.

Beyond this, he said, some action might become necessary to return to the farms men already drafted into the service.

There was some criticism in congress, meanwhile, of an order by General Hensley citing the making of motion pictures as an essential morale-building activity and permitting the deferment of actors, directors, writers, producers and technicians.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said he could think of a great many people whose deferment was more important than that of movie actors.

Federal contributions of between $250,000 to $500,000 a month now are the foundation for the pay of more than 1,500 state employees. Benefits to the unemployed come from the state funds but these checks couldn't be distributed without the administrative machinery.

One spokesman for the state said only about $30,000 now is available for the February payroll.

Lewis G. Hines, Pennsylvania secretary of labor and industry who supervises the unemployment compensation bureau, touched off an otherwise quiet hearing when he charged the board had tried to "trick" Governor James.

While Altmyer ignored the remark, minority member George E. Bigger retorted that "I resent that."

ALL-TIME HIGH IN NUMBER OF DOG LICENSES

More vigilance in enforcement of Pennsylvania dog laws was credited by State Agriculture Secretary John H. Light today with boosting issuance of licenses and revenues from this source to an all-time high.

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg, the state last year issued licenses to 602,350 dogs, fees of $45,765 being the peak since the enactment of the control law in 1921. Fines for violations amounted to $19,465.

Claims paid by the commonwealth for damages done by dogs totaled $23,585 while enforcement officers collected $1 for each of 26,425 canines killed. Damages recovered from dog owners after payments by the state brought in $8,990.

Allegheny county led in issuance of licenses with 29,339 while Cameron county's 563 was the lowest. Topping the 1,466 claims for the year were 740 for sheep and 601 for poultry losses.

In addition to licensing and handling of damage claims, the agriculture department laboratory conducted examinations showing that 104 dogs had been afflicted with rabies. No trace of the disease was found in 188 others examined.

Total revenue of the animal industry which administers the dog law jumped from $2,102,502 for the 1936-38 period to $2,278,238 for the past three years. Licenses jumped 2,500 and claims decreased from 5,576 to 4,389 with the amount paid from $80,278 to $65,907 in the same period.

License fees of $1 for males and $2 for females are fixed by the legislature and go into the commonwealth general fund without being earmarked for any certain purpose. There has been no change in the fees and agriculture department authorities see no need for any at this time.

"Dog laws in this state must be looked upon as a protective measure as well as providing a source of revenue," declared Secretary Light. "Protection afforded, however, depends largely upon the efficiency of enforcement."

Light issued a warning to dog owners who have not yet procured the 1942 licenses for their dogs. The 1941 licenses expired January 15. New licenses are obtainable at the offices of the county treasurers, or application may be made through any justice of the peace, alderman, magistrate or notary public in the district in which the dog owner resides. All dogs six months of age or older must be licensed.

Under the law the license tag must be attached to a collar which must be worn at all times by the dog and the tags are not transferable from one animal to another. Light also pointed out that the tag does not absolve the owner from liability in the event the dog causes damage to property and it is therefore necessary that all animals be kept under control.

School Music Boosters Consider Possibility Of Auditorium Here; Community Band Shell Is Planned

Preliminaries were set up at last night's meeting of the School Music Boosters' Club, held in the Bealy school and attended by more than 30 members and friends, that may result in realization of a long felt want in this community, a municipal auditorium with adequate facilities for handling musical and dramatic presentations that are not now possible.

The following were named as a committee to investigate possibilities of the project: Clement Wolstencroft, chairman; Basil White, Otto Peterson, Clyde Simonsen and L. N. Schuler. This group will report to the Boosters' Club directors at a meeting on February 23 and to the full membership at the next meeting on March 9.

After President Donald E. Folkman had outlined the plans for the year, which include erection of a community band shell and entertainment of the county musical festival in April, the following chairmen made announcement of appointment of their committees:

Mrs. Harry Thurn, ways and means—Mr. and Mrs. Alan Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dietrich, Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Murray, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Christie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schormann, Mrs. J. B. Leidig, entertainment—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Yeager, Mr. and Mrs. William Glassman, Mr. and Mrs. Tod Black, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Wolstencroft, William Taylor, membership, working with Otto Peterson, will report his committee later. Mrs. Merton Klinefelter, awards—Mrs. Henry Blick, Rev. Harold Knappenberg, Harry Summers, director of instrumental music in the schools, spoke of plans for the coming festival, when the Boosters' Club will handle arrangements in a manner similar to the entertainment of the Northwest District band festival two years ago.

A gift of appreciation was voted Mr. Summers for his untiring efforts and it was decided to care for repairs of uniforms for the young musicians. Members were reminded of the annual tag day in April, in charge of the ways and means committee and every member was asked to bring a prospect to the March meeting, when there will be refreshments, entertainment and a social time. Reports on all of the above projects will be made at that time.

The final event of the evening's program was the presentation by Director Summers of his concert orchestra in three splendid selections.

a final belch of smoke and flame—quickly extinguished by fireboats—marked the settling of the sea giant while spotlights from fire equipment on shore and in the river played on her toppling bulk. Hope that she could be salvaged even in her present position and condition was expressed by Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews, commander of the Third Naval District, as he ordered the big ship abandoned before it rolled over. At that time a 21-degree list had developed and the "clear ship" order was taken as a precaution against loss of life. The pier also was cleared.

"I don't believe the fire was caused by sabotage," Admiral Andrews said. "There was nothing to indicate it."

A big hole was cut in the ship's starboard side to allow water to be pumped into tanks amidship, he explained, in an attempt to offset a list to port by settling the ship more firmly on the bottom, but the pressure of the tide counteracted this emergency measure.

Thus was written another chapter in the seven-year history of the erstwhile blue-ribbon Normandie. She glided once with smart black and white paint; this gave way to wartime gray. Then the fire turned this to shroud-like black; now red mud swirls about half her hull and innards.

NOTED SPEAKER TO BE HEARD IN LECTURE - FORUM

When Walter Winchell wanted a clever story for his column which had to do with South America, he used one told by Rene Dussaq. When Gilbert Boland wanted a substitute in a movie in Hollywood, he chose Rene Dussaq. When Captain John (Danger Is My Business) Craig wants a deep-sea diver of phenomenal lung expansion and an undersea photographer to assist him, he calls for Rene Dussaq. When forums, club committees and audiences generally want an exceptional speaker on the subject of South America, they call for Rene Dussaq to talk on "A South American's View of South America."

That is why on Monday, February 16, at the Y. M. C. A. Lecture-Forum in the Woman's Club auditorium here, Rene Dussaq, native born and aristocratic Argentine, naturalized and democratic North American, will appear to give his successful factual address and to reply to questions put during the forum period which follows.

He has lived in Europe, in Cuba, in Argentina and in the United States. He has traveled far afield, and with this background, plus fine formal education and acute powers of observation, Mr. Dussaq brings a story which is unequalled in telling quality in its particular theme.

He is a handsome, smiling, good-natured young man, quick to see the humorous side of things. He has a fascinating method of sugar-coating his store of political and economic "pills." Audiences do not realize they are taking "doses" which are good for them. There are answers to questions like these: "Why is it impossible for representatives of the American press to get the facts in South America? Why are Japanese linking with Germans down there? Can a North American ever understand a South American? Do Latin favor joint air and naval bases? Has there ever been a true revolution in South America?"

Individual tickets for the lecture may be purchased at the Y. M. C. A.

Behind our armed forces

... the steady flame of Natural Gas

To arm and equip our fighting men... on land, on sea and in the air... this area—and Natural Gas—long ago assumed their vital role in production for war.

Mounting orders—doubled, trebled—for guns, tanks, armorplate, planes, ships, motors, a hundred war essentials, have been pouring into this industrial center, placing upon Natural Gas and other fuels new challenges for faster and faster production in scores of processes requiring industrial heat.

Your Natural Gas Company long ago geared itself to the urgent needs of defense and war. During 1940 and 1941 it was getting set for a greatly increased load—expanding facilities in every direction. Peak delivery in 1941 reached record levels.

Yet with all this industrial demand, it continued to serve its normal domestic and commercial gas users.

How has this been possible? By drilling hundreds of new wells, more than three times the average of the previous three years; building new transmission and field pipelines and compressor stations; and storing vast quantities of Gas underground.

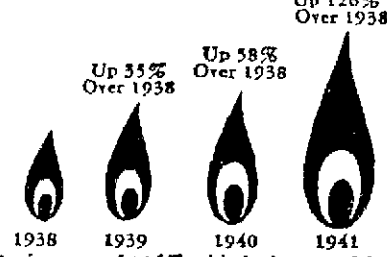

For 1942, this company has further plans, involving continued tremendous investment in these important facilities.

All this to protect you as a Gas user and to give every possible impetus to the pyramiding needs of war industry.

All this to make sure that our fighting forces—calling for planes, tanks, ships, guns—do not go unanswered!

Gas is vital to war industries

The tremendous increase in use of Natural Gas for industry in this defense area is illustrated by the chart below:

An increase of 126%—this is the record level met and being met by your Natural Gas Company as a result of the War.

Natural Gas is vital to war industries...

Use it wisely!

NEW JOB FOR ADMIRAL STANDLEY

The many warm friends and admirers of Admiral William H. Standley made on the occasion of his visit to Warren last November 22d when he participated in the presentation of the U. S. Navy Bureau of Ordnance flag and Navy "E" to the National Forge and Ordnance Company at Irvine, will be pleased over the announcement that he has been appointed ambassador to Moscow.

Admiral Standley, who is seventy years of age, will not be entirely unfamiliar with the problems he will face in the Russian capital, since he was a member of an American mission, headed by W. Averell Harriman, which conferred in Moscow last fall with British and Russian representatives on means of getting aid to the Soviet fighting forces.

It will be recalled that he retired in 1937, but he had another recent mission for the government as a member of the committee under Associate Supreme Court Justice Roberts which investigated and fixed blame for the success of Japan's surprise attack on Hawaii December 7.

PLENTY OF SOAP

Juvenile readers of the Times-Mirror will not find much over which to gloat in a dispatch from Washington which says that the urgent need for glycerine to make military explosives should result in production of enough soap this year to "scrub this land and most of the things in it".

The War Production Board prediction says that the reason for this situation is that more fats and greases will be processed by soap makers for the glycerine content than ever before, and a lot of the residue will go into soap.

A reduction in bathroom accidents may be expected in view of the fact that the board says that wartime soap probably won't be as slippery as the peacetime product, however, since virtually all glycerine will be extracted.

ADVERTISING 'BLACKOUT' UNWISE

Still useful even in the face of reduced stocks of things to sell, advertising must hold its place among the activities of the wise business man, believes Prof. F. A. Russell of the University of Illinois College of Commerce. There will be a buyer's market after the war, he suggests, in place of the present seller's market, and the business which has dropped out of the buyer's consciousness and lost touch with its customers will be heavily handicapped. Many firms which thus lost contact during the First World War never were able to come back in the post-war era.

New products will be appearing. There are shifts in population and buying groups, Professor Russell points out. Advertising still has an important, even though a changed, task.

THE BICYCLE EXISTS

The comeback of the bicycle, which really started about 1936, has of course been speeded up by the war. About 150 bicycles can be made from the amount of steel that goes into an automobile, and the industry can turn out between five and six million bicycles a year without much expansion.

Further, a standard "war model" has been adopted instead of the 375 different models formerly made. It will be stripped of nearly all gadgets and bright metal. As the number of automobiles on the road decreases—and it will—cycling will be safer and easier. America will soon be pedaling its way to victory.

TWILIGHT OF THE GODS

It isn't funny any more, but merely a little sickening, to read of Berlin radio broadcasts beamed for East Asia telling how Wotan, the German pagan god, is one with the Japanese god of the sun and the winds as fellow-symbols of pure Aryanism, linking Germany and Japan in a supernatural bond.

The appalling thing about all this twaddle is not merely that it is irrational, silly, and impudently faked. It is that millions of people have been induced to act on the orders of the kind of mind that produced it.

That, too, is what we are fighting.

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 10.—The farm placement section of the United States Employment Service is tackling the tough job of seeing that there is enough farm labor to plant and cultivate and harvest the 1942 crops—the food and meat and dairy and poultry products that are to win the war.

This farm labor recruiting drive is important, for it's just as necessary that the farms producing food for the fighting forces be fully manned as it is to have those fighting forces themselves. Consequently when the nine million additional men register for selective service on Feb. 16 they will make an occupational registration, too, providing a national inventory of manpower. And among the hundred or more skills which will be listed are those of the more such as dairy farming, tractor specialized agricultural trades jockeying, farm machine operating.

Authorities on the farm labor situation don't foresee that farm labor will have to be "drafted" to take off the crops this year. There will be no resort to Hitlerian tactics of forced mass migrations—assuming whole communities to remote rural areas for conscript agricultural labor. Instead, an effort will be made to see that local resources of manpower and woman power and youth power are intelligently marshaled for each community's farm job, and that the mobile migrant labor force is also intelligently mobilized and directed. Public spirit and local patriotism are to be relied on to handle this farm labor problem for 1942. Next year? Nobody is making any predictions about how things are going to be in 1943, or who's going to be doing what.

The farm labor supply picture of the six million U. S. farm stocks up today approximately like this:

The Department of Agriculture marketing service estimates the agricultural labor force at around 1.7 million hired hands. This isn't any accurate census, but a sampling survey made by crop reporting agencies.

Figured backward, the increased agricultural program for this year, providing for all the extra food needed to supply those allied nations which look to the United States for food supplies, will require an estimated 300,000 man-years of farm labor to produce. This isn't to be interpreted as meaning that 300,000 more farm laborers are to be required. Much of the labor going into this increased farm program is of a seasonal nature, requiring extra help at planting or harvesting or canning times. The increased number of part-time farm workers required, therefore, may run as high as 500,000 or 600,000. Seeing that this additional farm labor force is on hand at the right time for each crop is the job of farm placement service.

U. S. Employment Service, recently centralized by presidential order, has approximately 1500 offices operating in 1150 of the 3000 counties of the United States. These are the full-time employment offices where farm placement service men keep an eye on the year-round farming operations. In addition there are some 3000 temporary or part-time employment agents who are moved from one location to another to recruit labor for seasonal demands.

In some states, there are volunteer employment offices set up manned by public spirited citizens—county agents, farmers' storekeepers, co-op managers, filling-station operators or A.A.A. committee members. Any transients or unemployed coming into contact with these volunteer are approached and urged to take farm jobs to help harvest the crop.

On top of that are the mobile employment offices which in the

This, in brief, is the recruiting service which the farm placement section of the U. S. Employment Service now sets in motion to provide the extra labor necessary to take off the 1942 crops—to win the war with food, if you follow Department of Agriculture's slogan, "Food Will Win the War."

Chapter 12

The Countess Again

PAVLO appeared then, bearing a silver tray, cocktail shaker, glasses.

"Here we are," Goodwin filled a glass, handed it to Sharon. "We'll drink to your success."

Trembling, she accepted the glass, stared into the depths of the clear amber liquid as if it were a crystal and she might read there what the future held for her.

"Pardon, sir," Pavlo said. "The doorman phoned that Countess Cayetuna is on her way up."

"Show her in as soon as she arrives. That's all, Pavlo."

The Countess again. Sharon stiffened, half-rose in response to an instinct that prompted her to leave.

"Sit still, Sharon," Goodwin interrupted her. "I want you to know the Countess better. You'll learn a lot from her. She's very clever."

Sharon sank back, tried to be sure Goodwin wasn't being sarcastic. Surely he must have seen how intensely the Countess disliked her. Or, perhaps, she was blind to the feminine brand of strategy. Or—more likely still—had she let her imagination run loose again?

But she was not imagining the frost in the Countess' greeting.

"Good evening, Miss Doyle. What a pleasant surprise to find you here again." Then, to Harvey, "I had no idea I would be in the way."

"You're not. Sit down. Edda. Have a drink." He filled another tin-stemmed glass. "We've just had a shock this evening."

"A shock?" The Countess raised her dark brows. "Tell me."

She sank gracefully into a deep chair. Her dark hair wound coronet fashion around her head, the black velvet of her dinner dress made a jewel case setting for her dramatic beauty.

Sharon couldn't smother the pang of jealousy that pierced her new-found joy in Goodwin's renewed confidence. Why, she reasoned miserably, would he ever have come for a nobody when a woman as fascinating as beautiful, as worldly as the Countess was so obviously interested in him?

Sharon watched him now as he spoke rapidly, succinctly of the events of the afternoon. Cool, clear-thinking, he seemed completely confident of his ability to meet this new turn of events. The Countess appreciated that competence too.

"Harvey, you're so terribly clever," she smiled at him over the rim of her cocktail glass. "Who but you would be able to see through a plot so clever?"

"And who but you, Edda darling, would flatter me so obviously," he retorted, smiling. "Now Sharon here argued with me until I had proved it to her—and, incidentally, to myself."

Antagonist

INSTANTLY, Sharon sensed the Countess' antagonism.

"Which was, of course," the Countess murmured with a kind of languorous indifference which wasn't, Sharon knew, indifference at all, "much more subtle flattery than mine! I know Miss Doyle will be a very great help to you, Harvey."

And suddenly Sharon was frightened. None of Harvey Goodwin's warnings, her own realization of risks involved, nothing gave her the sensation of real terror that this woman's unmistakable hostility aroused. Countess Edda Cayetuna, for some reason known only to herself, hated and feared Sharon.

Sharon's wits, like straggling, ill-equipped infantry, fell into line. What had she done to arouse that antagonism? Surely the Countess couldn't seriously envy Sharon's slim claim to Harvey's attention.

"Darling," she was saying now, trailing long, slim fingers possessively along the broad lapel of his coat, "had you forgotten you promised me a symphony concert tonight?"

"Did I?" Harvey looked startled. "I'm sorry. I'd completely forgotten."

"If we hurry, we can still hear part of the Beethoven Fifth. That is," she turned to Sharon so graciously her concern might easily have passed for genuine—"if Miss Doyle will be kind enough to excuse you."

Sharon rose immediately. "Of course."

"Why not go with us, Sharon? You like good music, don't you?"

"My dear," the Countess interrupted before Sharon could answer. "That would have been delightful. If I'd only known in time. But—" and with a lovely little gesture of helplessness, "I have accepted an invitation to join friends in their box. I'm so sorry. But you understand—and forgive me, don't you, Miss Doyle?"

"Please don't mention it," Sharon tried to make her smile natural. She understood only too well. The Countess would have fung prussic acid in her face before she'd have allowed Sharon to join their twosome. "If you'll have Pavlo call a taxi, please," she said, turning to Harvey.

He scooped up the gloves that fell from her lap as she rose, held both her hands in his a moment. "Sure you'll be all right?"

"Sure. She was only anxious now to get away quickly. Good night."

Harvey followed her to the door. "Thank you for coming. Don't be afraid to come again should anything develop."

"I won't," Sharon promised, feeling, as she stepped out into the hall, that her gravest danger at the moment lay behind Harvey Goodwin in the unsimiling coldness of the Countess' face.

Minks And Sables

THE welcome aroma of frying bacon greeted Sharon as she opened the door to their little apartment and she realized that part of the cold hollow ache within her was sheer hunger.

"Fit, there!" she called toward the kitchen and the smiling Dennis who appeared in the doorway with one of her aprons tied around his middle. "How's my jaundiced brother?"

Dennis' smile changed to a sheepish grin. "Gosh, I hope you didn't worry too much. I'm sorry. But it sure turned out all right. An ill wind and so forth."

Sharon dumped her coat and hat on the davenport. "What do you mean, 'so forth'?"

"That guy Goodwin is all right," Dennis swung an arm around her, hugged her crushingly. "I don't wonder you go for him in a big way. He's a good egg."

"I know that. But what has sold you the idea so completely?"

He flipped a strip of bacon sizzling in the pan, then waved the fork at her. "He sent me to a guy that's on the ground floor with all the shipping outfits around here. And he got me a plush-lined job at Beckman Warehouse that pays real dough and you don't work like a galley slave, either."

Sharon perched on the kitchen table. "Tell me all about it."

"Don't know too much to tell yet. But I've been down there all day looking over the building and meeting all the guys and everything. Smart fellows all right. And they're all in the dough. Every one of them drives a fancy car and—"

"Working in a warehouse and driving fancy cars?" Sharon interrupted.

"Sure. Why not? We get good pay. Ten bucks a day and a neat cut on the stuff that goes through the warehouse."

"A cut? What for?"

"Hell, I don't know what for. But boy, I'm not asking any questions." He broke an egg into the frying pan. "And I'm buying me a fancy coupe with my first paycheck."

"Oh, Dennis, now—"

"Don't. Oh, Dennis, me, sister dear." He scooped her into a hug.

"I'll be buying you mink and sables before another winter."

Laughing, Sharon gasped for breath. He was such a big kid. "Nothing like counting your minks before they're paid for," she teased, brushing aside her anxiety about his reckless extravagance so she might enjoy this renewed eagerness. This was the real Dennis. Now that he was happy again, everything else would settle down.

"And it's all thanks to Mr. Goodwin," she reminded him later as they finished off the good, homely food with coffee and cigarettes. "He's been so wonderful to me. I don't know how I'll ever thank him enough."

"Good guy," Dennis nodded. "Give a guy a break like this. Then, glancing at his watch, "Say, we still have time for a movie. Let's go, huh?"

So fired that all she really wanted to do was to crawl into bed, Sharon nodded. "All right, if you want to."

It was a beautiful evening. Wind from the ocean was keen, laden with the smell of salt spray. They walked the five blocks to the neighborhood theater. Dennis talking eagerly of his future, his delight with his wonderful opportunity to "really get into big dough."

Sharon, her practical mind skeptical of the exaggerated opportunities Dennis seemed so sure of was too tired, too glad of Dennis' complete transformation, to argue. So long as Dennis was happy and in Mr. Goodwin's hand she need not worry.

The picture was long and thrilling so that when, as they came back out into the crisp night air, Dennis suggested a walk on down to the beach, Sharon pleaded her weariness.

"I'm dead, Dennis. You go on. I don't mind going home alone. You have your walk. It will do you good."

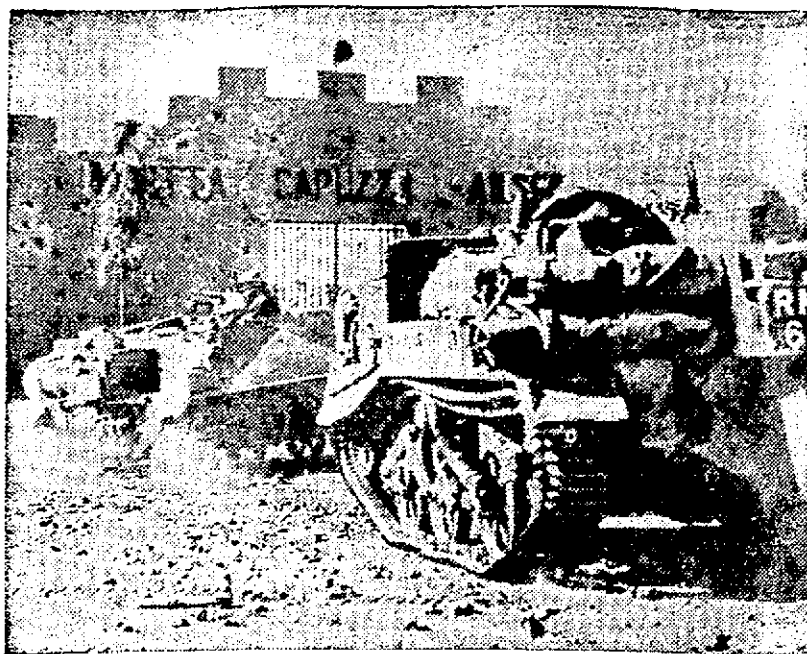

It was after midnight when she rang for the wheezy elevator. And the strain of her long, exciting day drained her energy so that when she finally turned on the lights in the apartment it was several moments before she could realize that something was wrong.

She flew into the bedroom. Bureau drawers emptied onto the floor, every box in her dressing table opened. With cold hands, she opened the chaste silver jewel box—her one really cherished possession. There in the satin folds lay her one string of good pearls. Her mother's engagement ring. And on top of the dresser lay the twenty dollar bill Dennis had returned.

Sharon met her own white-faced reflection in the dressing table mirror. A burglar! Who had scooped up the jewels, the silver, not even cash! Then—what did he want!

Crumbling Capuzzi Shows Wear and Tear of Desert Shuttle War

A shell-pocked Fort Capuzzi (Capuzzo), Italian stronghold on Egyptian-Libya border, was first captured by British in Dec., 1940.

German and Italian forces further damaged the fort in fight to retake it in April, 1941. In foreground, a German soldier's grave.

Badly battered in current Libyan campaign, Capuzzi was taken again by British last month. Now axis forces are on the way back.

Early Church History In Western Pennsylvania Is Subject of Paper

Dr. James A. Davidson, of the First Baptist church, appearing before the Social Science group of the Warren Academy of Sciences, which met at the Philomel Club Saturday evening, presented a paper on "Social Life and Church Discipline on the Western Pennsylvania Frontier." The study was a portion of Dr. Davidson's Ph. D. dissertation presented to the University of Pittsburgh where he received the degree last June.

That period covered began with the establishment of the first church of any denomination to be organized west of the mountains, the Great Bethel Baptist church of Uniontown in 1770, and ended with the year 1939.

The paper opened with the Baptists in Virginia at the middle of the 18th century, suffering persecution at the hands of the established church. When news of fertile land west of the mountains came, these Baptists were willing to push on and take their chances with the Indians.

These pioneers were, for the most part, English and Welsh, although the documents indicate that a few negroes—doubtless servants or slaves of members—and a sprinkling of Scotch-Irish were included.

The western Pennsylvania frontier was claimed by both Virginia and Pennsylvania and it was not until 1779 that the dispute was settled by the extension of the Mason and Dixon line. Seats of government were east of the mountains and the "long arm" of the law never reached into the frontier country. The churches, therefore, assumed responsibility for the moral and spiritual welfare of the frontier community.

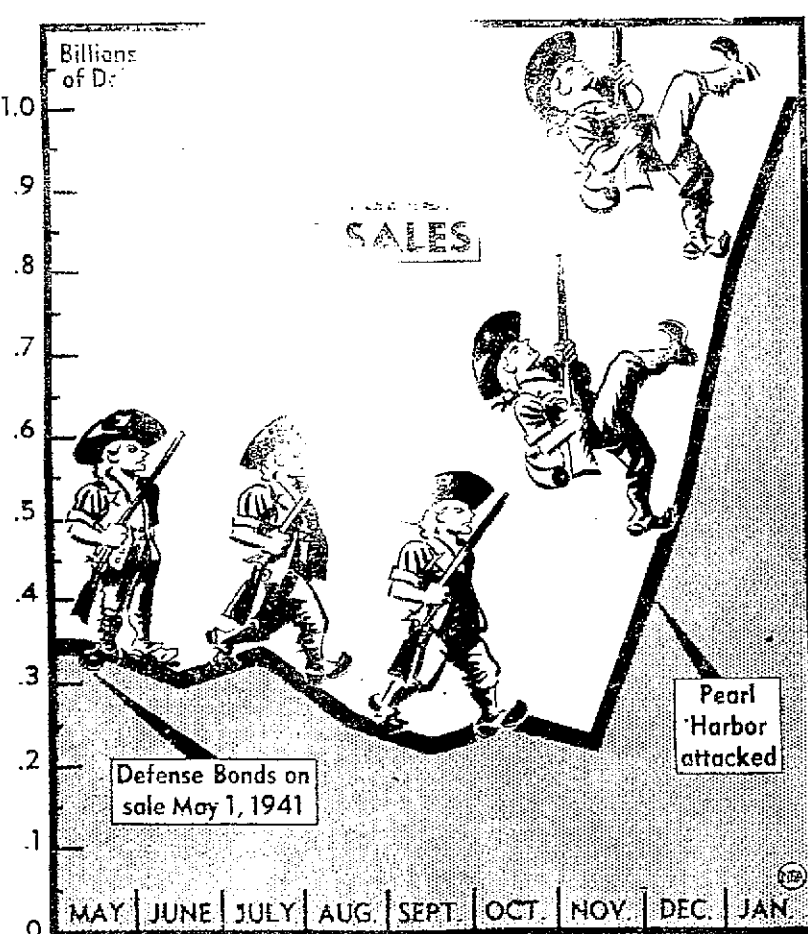

The church became a sort of morale court in which members were tried, and often severely punished. The church could not jail its members, nor deprive them of civil rights, but it was able effectively to enforce its control by appealing to

DRAGONS AFTER IMPORTANT VICTORY HERE THIS EVENING

Ramblers Expected to Make Close Battle; Wright Isn't Expected to be in Lineup

Bob Wright hit the net and the Dragons led. But the opponents broke through with a last minute goal and the score was tied. The game ended in an overtime Jim Urbanski rang the bell from the side court on a set shot, handing the Kolpiennien a close 34-32 decision. Yes, that's what happened last time the two principals in tonight's battle met at Johnsonburg during the first half, and it took a last-half drive for the Dragons to come from the rear and win that victory.

That's why tonight Beatty school's gymnast is expected to be fairly swelling with a crowd when the Jays pay back the Blue and White visit which was season, and the invaders will be planning to find the same success and wage the same kind of battle that the locals experienced on the Elk county court.

WRIGHT ABSENT
Latest available information before press time today as reported to the Times-Mirror sports department disclosed that Bob Wright, stellar Dragon on pivot man, was still absent from school and was not expected to be in the local lineup this evening.

And tonight's fray can be expected to be plenty tough for the Kolpiennien as Bob Wright isn't back in the lineup, which he may not be, as was indicated early today when it was reported that he had not resumed his studies yesterday at the high school. Wright will make a lot of difference upon the outcome in the contest, being valuable as a ball handler and feeder, and the disastrous result at Sheffield last Friday night cannot be forgotten.

If the stellar center doesn't dress this evening, Coach Kolpien is expected to start Smith and Lunquist at the forwards, Nelson at center, and Urbanski and Ted Black at the guards.

If the pivot man is available, he'll undoubtedly get the starting call at the center post with Nelson probably shifting to forward,

Waynesburg Passers Top Geneva Quintet

Waynesburg, Pa., Feb. 10.—(P)—The Waynesburg Yellow-Jackets stung Geneva 48 to 38 last night to avenge a basketball setback suffered earlier at Beaver Falls.

Johnny Coulson and Chuck Varnak scored 17 and 14 points respectively to pace the victors in the second half.

Waynesburg's players scored 10 of 11 free shots while Geneva got 10 of 11.

The big cheering ovation of the night went to Moe Scary of Duquesne, Pa., Waynesburg guard, who ended his collegial career. He will enter the army on Wednesday.

How to Bowl Better

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Soldier Thomas Jackson and Sailor Robert Donovan, submitting entries for the $50,000 Red Crown Open Play Bowling Carnival, take time out to show how to pick up the 4-7-10 "impossible" split. They contend that if you hit the 4-pin (The Jap), you'll sweep away the 7-pin (Hitler) and the 10-pin (Mussolini) will just faint away when the others fall. The sixth and last contest in the $50,000 Red Crown carnival opens March 7.

Alley Oop Faster, Oop By V. T. HAMLIN

CARRABANTES IS DECISIONED BY FRITZIE ZIVIC

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10.—(P)—Fritz Zivic, the former welterweight champion, boxed, mauled and punched his way last night to a 10-round decision over Paul Carrabantes, clever and speedy Chilean, showing his homefolks he still has some fight left.

The crowd of 5,125 fans, paying a gross of $15,369.05 for the infantile Paralysis Fund boxing show in the Gardens, booed Zivic nevertheless, at the finish.

Zivic, weighing 148½ to 144 for his opponent, piled up a big early lead, then coasted with Carrabantes putting on his best two-faced attack in the seventh and ninth stanzas. There was plenty of mauling, backhanding in the clinches and butting.

Izzy Janazzo, a fast-stepping 151-pound Brooklyn puncher, battled out a victory over Ossie Harris, 158, Pittsburgh negro, in a fast semi-final bout despite an injured hand suffered in the second round, and a cut under his left eye.

The new champions won their crowns last night before a crowd of 10,000 at Convention Hall in some of the fiercest amateur boxing matches seen here.

Fourteen of the new titlists are from Philadelphia.

Do You Know---

Answers to "Do You Know---" will found on this page.

Scoutin' the sports front... Win, lose or draw at Sheffield, opposing scribes enjoy the evening, for it's the only place in the league with an individual press box, and also the only place where you have room for a scorebook, pencil, and yourself... Never received better treatment or friendlier assistance than in the lumber town, either... When the Bradford knocked off Ridgway last week, they scored 23 points in the third quarter while holding the Elks to a goose egg... Three members of the Bradford frosh quit, piling up a whale of a record this year, are in their respective homes with the mumps... And something like the mumps or another disease is the only remedy we can see that will check the Elks and keep them from winning the Northern League championship... We'd rather see them win it... Of course, Joe Massa's Sheffield Wolverines still have a remote chance of getting in the way.

Looking at the calendar, we see it's Monday afternoon (it'll be Tuesday afternoon when you see this), and so it's time for our regular Northern League Dope sheet. We've already been crossed on one forecast this half, Sheffield playing nasty tricks with the Dragons, and so in an effort to do better, here we go again... Warren should be good for a win tonight against Johnsonburg, but don't bet your bottom dollar... It looks like Sheffield over St. Marys, but we're an inkling the Wolverines are riding kinda high since whipping the Kolpiennien, and an on night for the Dutchmen might throw the Massamen down a peg or two... Anyhow, Sheffield... While over around Ridgway it seems that Kane should be strong enough to whip the Elks, even though they nipped them in the first half by a lone point and tonight's fracas will be played at Ridgway... And Bradford will probably have more trouble on the roads to Emporium than they will upon arriving for their fiesta against the Tubers... That's it, hope they're right this time.

Sparks from the Hot Stove League... Some trading still may be in the making before the 1942 baseball season gets under way... The St. Louis Browns need a shortstop, but the heck of it is, they haven't any potatoes with which to go hunting... Cincinnati's Bernie Lombardi, the guy who slept on a plate once, in the '40 World Series, has gone to the Braves, as you probably know, but what difference it's going to make to either the Reds or Boston seems slight... Fletcher Paul Derringer has sweated away ten pounds and now is a mere 220... Joe McCarthy says John Lindell, Yankee pitcher coming up from Newark, has a better chance to win than most hurlers because he can hit as well as he pitches... As we country folks know, they're becoming aware of the fact around the big time now, that Class D clubs outdraw the Double A leagues in many areas... Right in the nearby PONY League, for example... In fact, the Jamestown Falcons and Bradford Bees were often drawing more fans than the Browns last summer.

Ring Dust... Billy Conn dropped to the canvas in the 13th round when he fought Joe Louis last summer... It cost him the heavyweight title which he nearly had on his head... Friday night, when he meets Tony Zale in Madison Square Garden, now is a mere 220... Very likely he's expected to outweight the middleweight champ by about 13 pounds... What's going to happen to Pittsburgh Billy this time?... Very stinking of N. E. A. Featherweight Champion Jackie Wilson to refuse to fight Leo Rodak, because the Chicago beak buster was too "heavy" for him... Why not admit he was too "good", too Jackie?... Left Rooney-McGinley, Inc., rocking the last minute, trying to find a suitable opponent to fill out the card... With his hands so full, Bob Pastor may "drop" something before he completes the present program in line for him, which will lead to a third title fight with Louis if he's successful... Fight we'd like to see is Lou Franklin against Conn.

Taking three points last night and benefiting temporarily on a postponement by the Heat Treat and Forge Shop, the Times-Mirror league leaders in the Industrial today were again out in front by a margin of ten games after a lukewarm performance last night against the collar lodged Crossetts.

There was nothing so good about the newspapermen last night that better competition wouldn't have cured, but fortunately such veteran bowlers as Roy Greenlund and Scallie chose last night to be off. Greenlund hit 395 in three games. Scallie had 282 in two. Pettitt sparked the victory with a 509 total.

Nummy Wooster's 600 was best total at the Arcade for the night, and his second game of 215 was second high, only Christie, of Millie's Inn, topping him with a 242 after the latter had blown his first two games with scores of 126 and 128.

At the Elks, an insurance man, circulation manager and city editor led the Times-Mirror entry in that circuit to a four-point victory over the Rasmussens. Art Johnson hit 215 in his last game for a 550 total, best on the newsmen's outfit. Howie Clark had 506 with consistent games though none of them 200 scores, and El Hildum managed to rap out a 213 second game to come in with 533.

In a low scoring match, the only other one at the Elks last evening, the Texas Lunch lost three to Cochran, with Captain Dennis leading his boys with a 534. Chick Check got 537 for the Lunchmen but the rest of the scores were down.

The Elks League match between Turner Radio and South Side Market, scheduled for Thursday evening, has been moved ahead from nine o'clock to seven o'clock. No match is scheduled on alleys 3 and 4 for the late hour under the change.

On the Conewango drives, the Parshalls and Trevenens had an odd setto last evening, which finally ended up with both teams going home claiming two points.

DIRECTORS PLAN TO DIRECT PIAA TABLED BY DPI

Harrisburg, Feb. 10.—(P)—The Department of Public Instruction, through Superintendent Francis B. Haas, appeared cool today to a proposal by Pennsylvania school directors that it take over direction of schoolboy athletics.

The directors' association, in convention here Friday and Saturday, asserted its request for three representatives on the board of control of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association had been tabled and the directors suggested the alternative of "complete supervision" by the Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. Haas commented that if local school districts manage their own athletic affairs reasonably well, they ought to be permitted to continue.

"And I think they've done a good job so far," he added.

The PIAA Board of Control is made up of district representatives of member schools, chosen from the ranks of faculty members.

Dr. Haas said athletic supervision by his department would "require legislation to make it effective."

"The department has no authority to take such control without legislation," he said. "That type of authority is now vested in the local boards and, as far as I know, it's worked out pretty well."

The directors' resolution could be considered at the next board of control meeting in March.

"As far as the association (PIAA) is concerned, it works under a constitution which provides makeup of the board," said Chairman R. B. Stapleton of Tanques.

"Before we could do anything it would be necessary to submit to member schools the question of amending the constitution. We will just have to consider at a future meeting whether to submit the matter to the members."

Stapleton said the PIAA last year offered the school directors the same representation on the board as the Department of Public Instruction, which has an advisory member without voting power.

"They didn't see fit to accept that and the reply was tabled," Stapleton said.

ing home claiming two points. When the match officially ended, both clubs had a grand total of 2527, necessitating a roll-off. The roll-off was won by Parshalls, thus giving them the total points and a split.

Johnsonburg Cager Regains Scoring Lead As Spenik Is Scoreless Against Dutchmen

Franczak, of Johnsonburg, was atop the individual scoring leaders in the Northern League as the teams prepared for their second outings in the second half tonight, after scoring 17 points last Friday when his team walloped Emporium, 49 to 21, while Spenik of Kane was going without a single point, though the Wolves were victorious.

With the huge total in the game with the Tubers, Franczak bettered the individual scoring average for the leader of the loop by two-tenths of a percentage point, now having averaged 12.1 per game, while before Friday night's card Spenik's average had been 11.9.

The high flying Bradford Owls became the first team this season to place three candidates among the top ten, a remarkable feat in itself, when Frising came from 11th place last week to seventh today, and Bling moved into second from third, while Barry remained lodged in fourth.

Parks, of Emporium, sixth in individual scoring, is fourth in the individual averages, still one game shy of the rest of the field in the first ten, he has averaged 10.3 points per game, one-tenth of a point less than has Kane's Spenik in eight encounters.

With 65 points against the Ridgway Elks, the Bradford Owls increased their team scoring lead over the rest of the field, and boosted their game average form 45.7 to 48.1, another trick at which to marvel.

Sheffield remained in second place, the Wolverines' 48 points against Warren last week placing them in the 500 column with 511.

Warren will be found in fourth place in the team scoring, giving way to the third berth to the Johnsonburg Jays, and Warren's only remaining individual scorer in the top ten, Marty Smith, has dropped to eighth position, with only 68 points in eight games, an average of 8.5.

Fateful Hour For British Stronghold Nearing Rapidly
presumed a landing would be attempted.
Netherlands East Indies authorities announced that Japanese landing parties had gained a foothold in the neighborhood of Macassar, in the southwest section of the island of Celebes, previously invested from the north. Macassar lies about 300 miles across the Java sea from Soerabaja. Java, a major United Nations naval base, Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek conferred with leaders of India at New Delhi and the viceroy, Lord Linlithgow, said Japan would learn it "bodes our enemy no good."

A quick decision obviously was sought by the Japanese shock troops striking anew at the British defenders of Singapore.
U. S. Consul-General Kenneth S. Patton closed the American consulate yesterday, turning United States interests over to Swiss representatives. With two aides, Patton awaited transportation from the island.
Bombs and shells hammered on paths for Japanese riflemen, although the British exalted a bloody toll and Hurricane fighter pilots battled on against odds when a spokesman said were twice as great as those at the height of the battle of Britain.
The invasion army evidently was driving to complete the conquest of the $400,000,000 fortified island—one key to the southwest Pacific area—by tomorrow as a holiday gift to Emperor Hirohito.

New York, Feb. 10.—(P)—The All-India radio reported that Batavia, capital of the Dutch East Indies, had an air raid today and that "bombs were dropped in the center of the city and in the harbor area."

Rome (From Italian Broadcasts) Feb. 10.—(P)—The Italian high command reported today that torpedo carrying planes in the eastern Mediterranean hit by a British heavy cruiser while Axis planes once more raided the British bases at Malta and Alexandria.
Capetown, Union of South Africa, Feb. 9.—(Delayed)—(P)—Col. A. H. Keith Jopp, director of South Africa's coastal and anti-aircraft artillery, said in a broadcast tonight that South Africa's coastal defenses had been considerably improved and that important war material had arrived.

MEETING HELD BY B. P. W. CLUB AT YOUNGSVILLE
Youngsville, Feb. 10.—Youngsville Business and Professional Women's Club met Monday evening for an interesting meeting at the home of Violet Pollard, of Ford street.
There was a good attendance. Miss Edna Thompson, vice president, presided at the business in the absence of the president because of illness. After opening with the reading of the collect and report, Miss Nellie Knapp read part of a national B. P. W. news letter, including rules for health for business and professional women.
Miss Gertrude Ostroski read a resolution, which was adopted by the club in memory of Miss Ruth York, late member of the Youngsville B. P. W. Club.
Mrs. Edith Getts, Girl Scout chairman, gave an interesting talk about the work of the Girl Scouts of Youngsville during the past five years since organization.
Mrs. Gladys Swanson conducted the program period, opened with a talk on the topic of the evening, "Public Affairs," and stressing activities for local defense.
The Pollard boys played a fine piano duet. Miss Helen See gave two humorous readings. Mrs. Violet Pollard read a story concerning the part American Bundles for Britain is playing in bombed London.
A pleasing piano solo was given by Miss Lillian Swanson.
Mrs. Gladys Swanson poured and Mrs. Ethel Wesley and Mrs. Dorothy Crandall assisted the hostess.

Art In OCD Attacked In House

and waste the substance of America that should go into planes, guns and ships to defeat Mr. Hitler.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the house appropriations committee and floor manager for the measure, earlier had criticized members for devoting so much time to "flyspecks" and said that the omnibus bill carried many more important items.
Before the debate began, Mrs. Roosevelt suggested in a press conference that she be given an opportunity to be heard by congressional critics. Without inviting her to appear, the house approved the OCD appropriation by a vote.
In another vote members went on record, 258 to 112, against the request of Secretary Morgenthau for $80,000 to pay for a Donald Duck movie now being shown throughout the country to promote prompt income tax payments.

Java Prepares To Repulse An Enemy Invasion

jermasin about 300 miles almost due north.
With another arm of the Japanese offensive already established at Pontianak, on Borneo's west coast 440 miles north of the Indonesian capital of Batavia, Java was preparing to meet an all-out offensive at any moment.
The Japanese attack on Macassar was seen as an indication that the Macassar Strait invasion fleet was on the move again. Halted for two weeks by the heavy losses inflicted by United States-Dutch air and naval action, this force was believed to have regrouped in the protected harbor of Balikpapan and to have obtained reinforcements in ships and men.
Both in the Macassar and Bandjermasin areas the Dutch garrisons were reported fighting delaying actions.

But there are some big "ifs" the greatest and most immediate being Germany's ability to regain the control required to allow necessary withdrawals from Russia.
The Russians predict confidently that the Nazis will be in no position to launch any offensive. They, apparently, hope to hit such a decisive blow in the north that it will upset German plans in the Ukraine.

FBI TAKES IN CUSTODY NAZIS AND ITALIANS

Huntington, W. Va., Feb. 10.—(P)—Six German waiters and an Italian baker employed at White Sulphur Springs, internment point for Axis diplomats and newspapermen, were brought here today under arrest as "dangerous enemy aliens."
Field Agent R. J. Untreuer of the Huntington FBI refused to comment on whether the prisoners had been arrested because of dealings with the interned officials.
Some 500 German and Italian diplomats and newspapermen, with their families, were interned at fashionable White Sulphur Springs shortly after the outbreak of the war.

ALLEGED MURDERESS REPUDIATES STORY

Georgetown, Del., Feb. 10.—(P)—With a formal repudiation of earlier statements to police on the record, Mrs. Dora F. Tyndall, 58, opened her defense today against a state accusation that she shot and killed her contractor husband.
On trial for second degree murder, Mrs. Tyndall appeared briefly yesterday before the state rested its case. She repudiated a statement which the prosecution said she made on December 29 relating that John R. Tyndall was fatally wounded when a shotgun over which the couple struggled accidentally discharged.
A horse's teeth are not complete until the animal is 8 years old.

82-YEAR-OLD MAN IS AN ALLEGED SLAYER

Lebanon, Feb. 10.—(P)—An 82-year-old former school teacher and justice of the peace was held for further questioning today in the fatal shooting of his 48-year-old son, an unemployed laborer.
District Attorney L. Ehrman Meyer said the victim, George Lineaweaver, was fatally wounded in an argument with his aged father, Joseph Lineaweaver. The prosecutor said he recommended a mental test for the elder Lineaweaver before entering a formal murder charge against him.
Meyer quoted the father as saying, "around my house. I'm the boss" and "I took enough from my son that was all."
Meyer said the younger man criticized his father's treatment of his mother.

THREE STEPS TO TOKYO

Allied bombers on the offensive in the Far East may blast a path to Tokyo in the three stages shown on map. When enough planes have been massed at Rangoon and other points, strategy would be to push Japs north by bombing out and occupying their positions, continually obtaining bases closer to Japan. Curved lines show bomber radius from present and potential allied bases.

GLOOMY NEWS REFLECTED ON STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 10.—(P)—The threat of an early Japanese conquest of Singapore weighed heavily upon the stock market today and leaders recorded further losses ranging from fractions to around 2 points.

From the start the price structure reflected the gloomy war reports but declines were comparatively narrow until the steel entered a rather sharp descent. This was a cue for some stepping up of selling activity but volume again tapered near the fourth hour.
Particularly depressing to market sentiment was the news from London that authorities regarded the position of Britain's Pacific bastion as "very bad." This was taken in financial circles as an admission of modification of the recently expressed belief that the Nippon forces could be held at a distance for an indefinite time.
Stocks on the soft side included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Douglas, American Telephone, John-Manville, Eastman Santa Fe, Great Northern, and Texas Co.

designated to push against Egypt with those aimed at the Caucasus, Iran and Iraq.
4. If possible, with Bulgarian assistance, to seek from Turkey at least transit rights for a third column as well as water rights for transit into the Black sea.
This gigantic scheme, foreign observers believe, is based on an even greater goal—to work eventually into Asia in liaison with Japan.

But there are some big "ifs" the greatest and most immediate being Germany's ability to regain the control required to allow necessary withdrawals from Russia.
The Russians predict confidently that the Nazis will be in no position to launch any offensive. They, apparently, hope to hit such a decisive blow in the north that it will upset German plans in the Ukraine.

TIMES TOPICS

FIRE IN KITCHEN
The fire department responded to a call to the Y. W. C. A. kitchen this afternoon about 12:30 o'clock where fire was found around the stove. The grease hood and pipes of the stove caught fire and paint about the kitchen was burned and blistered somewhat.
The alarm was a box call and the big aerial ladder truck recently put in service by the department made it first run.

Fishermen by countless thousands ramble the banks of Pennsylvania's streams during the various seasons and an accounting of the activities of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission for the year 1941 has just been made by C. A. French, Commissioner of Fisheries. The report is a comprehensive one and indicates that much progress has been made toward the goal of making Pennsylvania "the finest fishing state in the Union". The report points out to the sportsmen that new methods of fish culture and huge hatchery expansion programs have helped the commission along the way toward the objective.

The commissioner's report in part is as follows:

"Another year has rolled by and the time has arrived for me to submit for your consideration the accomplishments of your Fish Commission for the year 1941.

"You will note in the report that the total distribution figure shows a great drop over previous years. This is due solely to eliminating as much as possible the stocking of fry (newly hatched fish) and concentrating on the new program of stocking from fingerling to sexually mature fish. As an illustration of what stocking larger fish means—our distribution in 1941 of legal sized trout amounted to 1,643,101 from six to nine inches, the total weight of which amounted to 226 tons. We also stocked 1,432,265 fingerling trout, or a weight of seven tons. As stated before, we are not interested in putting out a report which could rightfully show 400,000,000 or 500,000,000 fish stocked but are convinced by stocking larger fish we will provide better fishing for Pennsylvania sportsmen.

"Practically all of the broam and catfish stock during the past year were sexually matured fish and from every section of the state where these fish were planted the fishermen have expressed their entire satisfaction with the program. "Our total production of legal sized trout during the year 1941 amounted to something over 800 tons. This includes the 1,643,101 fish stocked and the 1,000,000 granted to the Red Cross for first aid class.

Provision for the safety of school children in case of air raids was discussed. Since the building does not afford much protection children living near would probably be dismissed and others be kept in the center of the first floor. The secretary reported the redemption of three $500 bonds and 15 coupons, total amounting to $1,637.50; also the receipts of $119.73 from state appropriation on tuition.

The home department of the WSCS of the Methodist church met at the community house on Wednesday. The president, Mrs. Florence Ludwick, was in charge. She opened the meeting with reading of scripture and the group singing "God Bless America." There was a report of the flower committee by Mrs. Lois Strong. The chair committee reported the investigation and action was taken for the committee to make the decision of which and how many chairs to purchase. Mrs. Lucy Lindell reported that $11.06 was received for the lunch served for the Sinclair Oil Co.

Red Cross knitting and sewing was in charge of Mrs. Helen Mahan and Mrs. Ruth Swanson. Mrs. Nora Hinsdale presented the Red Cross with two quilt tops.

Mrs. Mahan reported as to the use of the money given by the department for year and suggested that an amount left be used for material to finish these quilts; which was accepted by the group. The hostesses were Mrs. Anna Eelman, Mrs. Clara Burgett, Mrs. Carrie Barkman and Mrs. Fred Putnam. The program presented was: Singing of "America" by the group; reading by Mae Bishop; a talk about Washington and Lincoln by Mrs. William Fuller. Mrs. Ruth Lindell presented the origin of Valentine's Day. Duet by Mrs. Eleanor Ludwick and Mrs. Ruth Lindell. Instrumental music by Mrs. Eleanor Ludwick.

Four new members were received into the organization. They are Mrs. Viola Firth, Mrs. Mildred Swanson, Mrs. Geraldine Marsh and Mrs. Nettie Head.

AMERICA'S ANSWER!

A new war-plane every six minutes.

A new war tank every nine minutes.

A great new anti-aircraft gun every twenty minutes.

Two new cargo ships every day.

That's America's Answer to Pearl Harbor!

That's America's Answer to Axis aggression—to pagan barbarism.

America's Answer will take raw materials in tremendous quantities—copper and rubber and aluminum and steel and zinc and tin—the same raw materials normally used to produce America's telephone service.

Because high-speed communication is so vitally essential to the war effort—both in production and in combat—it is well that America has the finest telephone system in the world today.

True, demands in recent months have used up much of the margins of plant which we have always endeavored to maintain to care for growth and emergencies.

We are confident that sufficient materials will be available to keep pace, at least, with the most critical requirements of the emergency.

Beyond that, we know that you will gladly give way when America's Answer makes it necessary.

Have no doubt that we are doing all in our power to meet every need for telephone service, civilian and emergency.

When the emergency demands it, we will do as you would want us to do—GIVE THE WAR EFFORT THE RIGHT OF WAY.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

which are being held at the hatcheries for spring stocking.

"Our bass production in 1941 was an all time high, there being 570,682 bass stocked last year. Those of you sportsmen who aided in planting these fish know they were as fine as were ever stocked anywhere.

"We feel that the majority of the sportsmen of our state, including both the organized sportsmen, numbering over 1000 sportsmen's organizations and the thousands of individuals who are not connected with the sportsmen groups are very close to our commission and have kept themselves informed as to what our program is, and as a whole have shown approval of the policies and stocking programs of the commission.

"The new methods of fish culture plus our mammoth expansion program will reflect in the 1942 distribution report and I can assure you that when the hatchery expansion program is completed and all the new methods go into effect we will be near the goal we have striven for and that is, to make Pennsylvania the best fishing state in the union.

"The following are some of the accomplishments of your Fish Commission during 1941 in distribution of the principal species together with the size and number:

"Brook, brown and rainbow trout, 6 to 19 inches, 1,634,101. "Black bass, 1 to 14 inches, 570,682. "Bream, 2 to 8 inches, 250,037.

"Pike-perch, 13 to 24 inches, 2,690.

"Catfish, 3 to 11½ inches, 534,631.

"Yellow perch, 2½ to 8 inches, 165,091.

"Minnows, 3 to 6 inches, 93,370.

"Suckers, 3 to 18 inches, 180,595.

"Pickereel, 6 to 20 inches, 3,317.

"Frog embryo, 156,050.

"Miscellaneous, 133,874.

"In addition the board distributed 1,432,265 trout fingerlings, 12,170,000 pike-perch, 65,000,000 yellow perch and 16,650,000 cisco, all in the fry stage.

"For the first time in the history of the commission the wardens were furnished uniforms. Our wardens were given a $10 per month wage increase and in addition, approximately 90 percent of the employees on the regular payroll received a wage increase of $10 per month and all regular hourly employees with one year or more of service received an increase of $5 a month.

was held, following which the many "White Elephants" were disposed of. The hostesses, Mrs. Helen Eelman, Mrs. Zada Walchli, Mrs. Evelyn Meley and Mrs. Lou Bailey, then served a delicious lunch. The next meeting will be held on March 2nd with Mrs. Maude Hyer and Mrs. Linna Knight in charge of the program. Miss Patty Gallagher, who is in training in the Meadville City Hospital, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher.

Mrs. Jesse Knapp is spending this week visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harold Carlson in Corry.

Mrs. Lina Frey has returned to spend some time with her daughter Mrs. Jack Sleeman. The Clarendon Fire Department was called out on Sunday evening to the former Frank Knight house on lower Main street. Considerable damage was done to the upstairs from a chimney fire.

Women Golfers Will Conduct Full Program

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(P)—Directors of the Women's Western Golf Association have voted to conduct a full program for 1942, scheduling the four regular championships. Inasmuch as the United States Women's Championship has been cancelled, the W. W. G. A. believes its events will draw entries from all sections of the nation.

All receipts from the tournament will be donated to war relief organizations and defense bonds and stamps will be awarded as prizes.

The Girl Supply Is "Rationed" in Hawaii

BY BETTY MacDONALD
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
Honolulu, Feb. 10.—A blonde on hand in Hawaii is worth 20 of her species in any sizeable mainland community.

That is the verdict of sailors, soldiers and hundreds of defense workers who, since the war, have boosted Hawaii's population to twice normal and increased the single-girl ratio to 20-1.

About 5500, eligible girls are on the calling list of the USO in Honolulu, but their number is dwindling as the run on marriage licenses continues. The Honolulu bureau of vital statistics records an increase of 117 percent in marriage applications during the month of December, as compared with last year's figures.

A "terrible example" of the girl rationing in Honolulu was evidenced at a recent USO dance when a forlorn sailor appeared with a large rag doll, his partner for the afternoon. He was tagged four times by the tag line.

And there's a new type of social life in the blacked-out Hawaii. Evening dresses are hanging forlornly in shop windows, marked down to cost. There'll be no "dancing under the stars" in Hawaii as long as lights are turned out at 6 p. m.

"Two's company"—but three or four or five are more frequently seen in Hawaii these days, where the male population is about doubled.

Instead, the gals are turning out for afternoon dances in slacks and sport clothes. Several prosperous "day clubs" have mushroomed in town, where floor shows run from about 1 a. m. until blackout time in the evening.

Hostesses plan on having their guests stay overnight, since no one except those on official business is allowed to go out after dark. Private stocks of liquor are now dwindling and chances of a lightening of the prohibition ban under military law are nil.

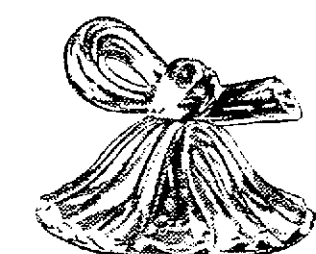

Blackout games are in vogue. Best is the adaptation of the popular spin-the-bottle. Since there are no bottles on hand, players spin the flashlight, and whoever is at the lighted blue end of the flash gets the gal. Only drawback, players maintain, is that you don't see what you're getting, and the lessons have as much fun as the peaches.

Local amateur theatrical companies are playing the service circuit from Pearl Harbor to Schofield. "Ten Nights in a Barroom" or "Wishful Thinking in Hawaii" rates top this week. Hula troops are packing them in so solidly that entertainers complain that they don't have room to "twiddle their tums."

INQUEST TO BE HELD IN UNION CITY ACCIDENT

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Floris Anthony Rohde, of Lawrence Park, Erie, who was killed Sunday night when a car in which she was riding struck the side of a locomotive on a fast Erie railroad freight at Union City, will be held Thursday morning at ten o'clock in the borough building at Union City. It has been announced by Deputy Coroner Arthur Crowe, of that place.

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Rohde, wife of Theodore D. Rohde, formerly of Warren, will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from the Crowe Funeral Home in Union City. The Rev. L. J. Bensinger, pastor of the Lawrence Park Methodist church, will officiate and interment will be in Evergreen cemetery, Union City.

Mr. Rohde, who was driving a Buick sedan, told Deputy Coroner Crowe that as he approached the railroad crossing he saw the gates were up, but as he neared the crossing his wife screamed, "Train!" Before he could do anything the car crashed against the tender of the locomotive. Both were thrown from the car, but Mrs. Rohde went underneath the train between the locomotive and the first car.

Mr. Rohde escaped with minor cuts and bruises and when the train was stopped was found walking around in a dazed condition in search of his wife.

Marvin Murdock, watchman at the crossing, told Deputy Coroner Crowe that the south crossing gate caught while being lowered and did not come down until the north gate was lowered and the locomotive of the train had reached the crossing by that time.

We also stocked 1,432,265 fingerling trout, or a weight of seven tons. As stated before we are not interested in putting out a report which could rightfully show 400,000,000 or 500,000,000 fish stocked but are convinced by stocking larger fish we will provide better fishing for Pennsylvania sportsmen.

"Practically all of the broam and catfish stock during the past year were sexually matured fish and from every section of the state where these fish were planted the fishermen have expressed their entire satisfaction with the program.

"The total production of legal sized trout during the year 1941 amounted to something over 300 tons. This includes the 1,643,101 fish stocked and the 1,000,000

granted to the Red Cross for first aid class.

Provision for the safety of school children in case of air raids was discussed. Since the building does not afford much protection children living near would probably be dismissed and others be kept in the center of the first floor. The secretary reported the redemption of three $500 bonds and 15 coupons, total amounting to $1,687.50; also the receipts of $119.73 from state appropriation on tuition.

AMERICA'S ANSWER!

A new war-plane every six minutes.

A new war tank every nine minutes.

A great new anti-aircraft gun every twenty minutes.

Two new cargo ships every day.

That's America's Answer to Pearl Harbor!

That's America's Answer to Axis aggression—to pagan barbarism.

America's Answer will take raw materials in tremendous quantities—copper and rubber and aluminum and steel and zinc and tin—the same raw materials normally used to produce America's telephone service.

Because high-speed communication is so vitally essential to the war effort—both in production and in combat—it is well that America has the finest telephone system in the world today.

True, demands in recent months have used up much of the margins of plant which we have always endeavored to maintain to care for growth and emergencies.

We are confident that sufficient materials will be available to keep pace, at least, with the most critical requirements of the emergency.

Beyond that, we know that you will gladly give way when America's Answer makes it necessary.

Have no doubt that we are doing all in our power to meet every need for telephone service, civilian and emergency.

When the emergency demands it, we will do as you would want us to do—GIVE THE WAR EFFORT THE RIGHT OF WAY.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

which are being held at the hatcheries for spring stocking.

"Our bass production in 1941 was an all time high, there being 570,652 bass stocked last year. Those of you sportsmen who aided in planting these fish know they were as fine as were ever stocked anywhere.

"We feel that the majority of the sportsmen of our state, including both the organized sportsmen's organizations and the thousands of individuals who are not connected with the sportsmen's groups are very close to our commission and have kept themselves informed as to what our program is, and as a whole have shown approval of the policies and stocking programs of the commission.

"The new methods of fish culture plus our mammoth expansion program will reflect in the 1942 distribution report and I can assure you that when the hatchery expansion program is completed and all the new methods go into effect we will be near the goal we have striven for and, that is, to make Pennsylvania the best fishing state in the Union.

The Girl Supply Is "Rationed" in Hawaii

Instead, the gals are turning out for afternoon dances in slacks and sport clothes. Several prosperous "day clubs" have mushroomed in town, where floor shows run from about 1 a. m. until blackout time in the evening.

Hostesses who want to entertain must plan on having their guests stay overnight, since no one except those on official business is allowed to go out after dark. Private stocks of liquor are now dwindling and chances of a lightening of the prohibition ban under military law are nil.

Blackout games are in vogue. Best is the adaptation of the popular spin-the-bottle. Since there are no bottles on hand, players spin the flashlight, and whoever is at the lighted blue end of the flash gets the gal. Only drawback, players maintain, is that you don't see what you're getting, and the lemons have as much fun as the peaches.

Local amateur theatrical companies are playing the service circuit from Pearl Harbor to Schofield. "Ten Nights in a Barroom" or "Wishful Thinking in Hawaii" rates top this week. Hula troops are packing them in so solidly that entertainers complain that they don't have room to "twiddle their thumbs."

"Two's company"—but three or four or five are more frequently seen in Hawaii these days, where the male population is about doubled.
